

Q1. Operators in Python

ANSWER

operators are special symbols or reserved keywords that carry out mathematical ,logical, or relational computations on variables and values.

1. Arithmetic operations
2. Assignment & comparison operators.
3. logical operators.
4. identity and logical operators.

Q2. Operators

ANSWER

/=it means divide between two numbers.
//=it means double division between two numbers.
%=it means modulus it gives remainder values.
=it means double multiplication between two numbers.

Q3. for and while loop

ANSWER

loop are used to run the code
while loop consists of if statement.

Q4. range()

ANSWER

the range means the numbers between from one position to another position.
range(5)= the numbers between the natural numbers.
range(1,6) = the numbers between from (1,2,4)
range(1,10,2)=the numbers between from (1,3,5,7,9)

Q5. String

ANSWER

instead of int we use string to define the code. The string is mutable it checks the weather the code is run or not.

Q6. String Slice

ANSWER

`s[::2]`Q7. List

ANSWER

list is a collection of elements but string has no elements.

Q8. List Slice

ANSWER

when we slice the operation is [70]

Q9. Index

ANSWER

positive indexing means if a big number is greater than any small number known as positive indexing.
negative indexing means if a number is less than any big number known as negative indexing.

Q10. length

— Not Submitted —